▶ Managing Information Across Partners

enables the delivery of a range of services that will improve the efficiency and administration for learning providers and increase the opportunities for learners to help with their education.

▶ Managing Information Across Partners

Managing Information Across Partners (MIAP) is a UK-wide initiative delivering a streamlined information management system for the education sector. Its key benefits are better management and sharing of data across the education sector.

MIAP's shared services allow organisations to work together more effectively using new models of delivery for data collection, sharing and reporting. This makes it easier to bring information together to directly benefit learners, Information, Advice and Guidance services, employers, schools and colleges.

MIAP allows individuals to easily share their learning record online with advisers and practitioners in schools, colleges and universities so that they receive personalised advice, guidance, support and learning.

The UK Register of Learning Providers (UKRLP)

The UKRLP provides access to information on education and training providers. All providers are verified and allocated a UK Provider Reference Number (UKPRN).

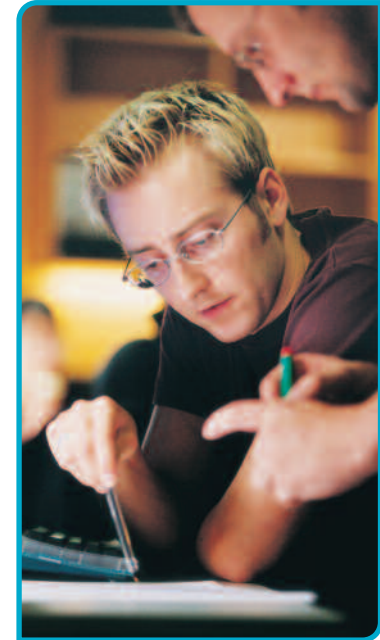

The Learner Registration Service (LRS)

The LRS issues a Unique Learner Number (ULN) to every person in education and training aged 14+. The ULN will be used by learners throughout their education. It enables the transfer of information between providers and allows learners to create and build a Learner Record.

The Learner Record

The Learner Record contains information about an individual's qualifications and achievements. It will allow learners to share information with learning providers and employers as evidence of their skills and achievements. Learners will have control over their record and who it is shared with.

The UKRLP and the LRS systems are being used successfully by a wide range of learning providers and agencies. The Learner Record will be delivered during 2009.
